'Living life in all its fullness' John 10:10

Christian Values: Courage, Compassion, Trust, Friendship, Wisdom, Endurance

Dear Parents and Carers,

The 80th anniversary of D-Day was marked throughout the school with special Collective Worship, tailored to the learning needs of different age groups. Red Kites have embraced the opportunity to understand what happened in more detail and we must thank one of our families who sent in a variety of resources and photos to add to the learning.

We must also thank the Chaddleworth village committee who organised a service, procession, soundscape, museum and beacon among many other events to commemorate the special day. Mrs Harris and I attended, along with some of our pupils. Just like in school, we found the whole experience a special opportunity to be a part of a community, marking together the sacrifice of others so that we can have freedom today.

Have a peaceful weekend,

Best wishes,
Mrs Stephenson

Dolce School Dinner Menu—Update

As the weather starts to warm up, Dolce will be offering picnic bags for the children. If you pre-order your child's lunches please look out for the new choice of either sandwiches or baguettes on your child's schoolgrid account from Wednesday 12th June.

Also please can we encourage parents and carers to order your child's school lunch in advance. This will help us to minimise the time taken ordering meals at registration. Soon there will be photographs at the time of ordering to help you/your child know what they are choosing. Thank you Dolce!

What Parents and Carers Need to Know

The National College has a long list of guides to help parents and carers make decisions about whether to allow or not allow access to games, starting with age ratings and then explaining why the age rating is in place. For example, did you know that Fortnite is rated a PEGI 12.
